CONTAGIOUS

DISEASES ARE PREVALENT ALL OVER THE WORLD.

I am a native of England, and while I was in that country I contracted a terrible blood-poison, and for two years was under the treatment of the best medical men in England. I suffered the most agonizing pains all over my body and limbs. I had vertigo and deafness, with partial loss of sight, severe pains in my head and eyes, etc., which nearly ran me crazy. I lost all hope, and was about to give up when I was cured by the use of the medicine known as "Blood Purifier." I have now taken several bottles of "Blood Purifier," and am as sound and well as I ever was in my life.

BLOOD

is the life, and he who remembers it. But in March of last year (1884) I contracted blood-poison, and being in Savannah, Ga., at the time, I went into the hospital there for treatment. I suffered very much from rheumatism at the same time, and was nearly blind. I was cured by the use of the medicine known as "Blood Purifier." I have now taken several bottles of "Blood Purifier," and am as sound and well as I ever was in my life.

POISON

had produced great holes in my back and chest, and had removed all the hair of my head. I began to improve in a week's time, and the sores began to heal, and were entirely gone inside of eight weeks.

ANTI-COUPON MEETING IN JEFFERSON WARD LAST NIGHT.

Speeches Made by Messrs. Tyler, Haskins, Elyson, and Cary-Letters and Resolutions, &c.

A mass-meeting of the citizens of Jefferson Ward opposed to paying taxes in coupons was held at Old-Market Hall last night, with a fairly good attendance.

The meeting was held under the auspices of the Old Dominion Democratic Club of that ward, and was called to order by the president of the club, Mr. James W. Gibbons.

Mr. Gibbons explained that the object of the meeting was to endorse and ratify the proclamation of Governor Lee calling upon the people of the State to pay their taxes in money and not in coupons.

MR. TYLER'S RESOLUTIONS.

Mr. Lyon G. Tyler was introduced as the first speaker. He said that while this coupon question is a dry one it is an important one, and should be carefully considered. He offered the following resolutions:

1. Resolved, That we, tax-payers of Jefferson Ward, in mass-meeting assembled, fully endorse the strictures of Governor Lee upon those of our tax-payers who seek to evade the payment of their taxes in coupons by seeking through various litigation, to discharge their dues to the State in depreciated paper.

2. That at a moment when foreign courts and foreign bondholders have entered into a conspiracy to strangle the rights and independence of this Commonwealth, it becomes every Virginian to rally around the people of the government and promote their success by every means in his power.

3. That we appeal to all the tax-payers of the city of Richmond and of the State to pay their taxes in money, and not in coupons, and to refuse to patronize any business-house outside of the State which attempts to do business here by agents who have no license.

THE TROUBLESOME COUPON.

Mr. Tyler spoke at some length, urging the adoption of his resolutions. He gave a brief history of the coupon as well as how it has troubled the affairs of the State since its first inception. He felt proud of what Virginia had accomplished, and all our people should feel likewise. He referred to the devastation of the late war, and how Virginia had always, notwithstanding her many burdens, held up her head and maintained the position to which she was entitled among the most honorable of States. He sketched the history of the Riddleberger act, and argued that the people now had a remedy in their own hands. What they have to do is to build up a moral sentiment against paying taxes in coupons. People pay their taxes in coupons because they can thus save 40 or 50 cents on the dollar. By using them the people who own much property are enabled to pay their taxes at about half price, and by this means they are enabled to evade the payment of their taxes in money. Mr. Tyler closed by appealing to all to pay in money, and so all would contribute to the support of the government.

Mr. Tyler was interrupted by applause several times during the delivery of his speech.

MEADE HASKINS, ESQ.

Mr. Meade Haskins was introduced as the next speaker and was warmly received. He seconded the motion for the adoption of the resolutions, and heartily endorsed what had been said by Mr. Tyler. He said that the highest court of this land had recognized the payment of Virginia taxes in Virginia coupons as just and right, and those who choose to exercise this right should not be ostracized, but he urged payment of taxes in money because he believed that the best public policy and expediency demanded it. The bonds which bear these coupons are not held by citizens or taxpayers of the State. Most of them are held by foreign holders, who speculate on the necessities of the State and her depressed financial condition. They did not pay dollar for dollar for these bonds, and those who use the coupons from them likewise save a great deal to themselves and speculate on the State. The men who hold the State's bonds are not acquainted with the condition of her affairs, and consequently have no sympathy with her. They only have agents who come here and place these bonds in the hands of brokers, and the latter can sell the coupons only to persons who owe dues or demands to the State. He appealed to all not to buy the coupons. Let these brokers be able to say, "We cannot get these people to buy coupons." The bondholders cannot go into the courts and demand that these coupons be redeemed dollar for dollar, as they can only be used in the payment of State dues.

Mr. Haskins closed by urging our folks not to demand or dictate, but to appeal to men to pay in money and not in coupons. [Applause.]

LETTER FROM MR. BEIRNE.

After Mr. Haskins closed his speech he read the following letter from Mr. Richard F. Beirne, editor of the State:

RICHMOND, VA., April 29, 1886.

To the Meeting of the Citizens of Jefferson Ward:

Gentlemen, I find to my regret that as it will be impossible for me to be in the city, I will be unable to accept your invitation to address you this evening on the duty of every citizen to pay his taxes in money, not in coupons. But I am glad to say in sympathy with the purpose of your meeting.

It is necessary that the present debt settlement should be made final, for further agitation of the debt question will only place the government in jeopardy by making possible the return to power of the worst enemies Virginia has ever had. Instead of aiding the creditor, this agitation can hardly fail to do his cause serious injury. It is plain that the most direct and successful means by which the settlement can be perfected is the refusal of our citizens to use coupons in the payment of taxes. Patriotism demands this. Who will falter in responding to the call of duty at such a time? Who can hesitate to relinquish this method of paying his taxes in a depreciated medium, by which he takes advantage both of his State and of thousands of his fellow-citizens? With my earnest wishes for the success of the movement in which you are now engaged, I am, very respectfully yours, RICHARD F. BEIRNE.

The resolutions were unanimously adopted.

HON. J. TAYLOR ELYSON.

Senator J. Taylor Elyson was next introduced, and spoke for a short time. He urged as reasons why people should pay their taxes in money and not in coupons—first, the protection of self-interests; second, loyalty to party pledges; thirdly, love for our Commonwealth.

He said that the continued payment of taxes in coupons will deplete the Treasury, and they all knew that a depleted Treasury meant destruction to the free schools and every other interest.

Mr. Elyson further argued that the people of both great political parties are pledged to the Riddleberger settlement, and above all things, men should redeem their pledges. The third point, he said, needed no word from him. It commended itself to the thinking mind.

Mr. Elyson showed the remainder of his speech by saying that if taxes are continued to be paid in coupons it will become necessary for taxes to be increased.

FROM GOVERNOR LEE.

After finishing his speech (which was a good one and which made a fine impression) Mr. Elyson read the following extract from a letter from Governor Lee to Mr. Tyler:

"It would have given me much pleasure to have been face to face with an audience assembled for such a purpose had not other engagements prevented."

COLONEL JOHN B. CARY.

The last speaker of the evening was Colonel John B. Cary, who spoke for about ten minutes in a clear and forcible manner. He paid a glowing tribute to the work done by the Old Dominion Club in former fights. He found them ever and always ready to render good service. He would invoke their loyalty and fidelity with all possible zeal in this fight against coupons. This subject, if dry, is very interesting to one. It was unnecessary for him to make a speech.
